— INTRODUCING MELISSA —

With over 15 years in the kitchen and bath industry Melissa Fanning grew up designing/drawing and building from a young age. She has fond memories watching her architect grandfather work on drawing in his home and loves the idea of carrying on his legacy. A big family gal, Melissa loves her cozy home and dog Daisy and spends her spare time on diy home projects with her husband. A graduate of Century College for Kitchen and Bath design and Herzing University with a degree in design and drafting she loves showing her clients the potential in each and every space and adding functionality to all of the fun elements too!

— WELCOME BACK ART! —

PERFECTLY PLYMOUTH KITCHEN & LAUNDRY

DESIGNER JOLYNN JOHNSON / JOLYNN@CRYSTALKITCHEN.COM

The 1989 home was in need of refreshing in the kitchen and laundry/back entry. The range with wood hood moved from the island and separate oven and steam oven was added, leaving a long island free of appliances. The messy desk became a dry bar/stand up desk combo with a beverage center.

The homeowners chose Crystal Cabinets in a white traditional style, with a brown highlight for the perimeter. The island was changed to a rich brown walnut. The counter top is Cambria, with the dry bar in walnut wood and a large subway tile backsplash. Kitchen Aid and Wolf appliances were selected. The light maple millwork was all painted to white to match the cabinets, getting rid of the 80's look.

The back entry/laundry room was a cluster of doors. Adding a pocket door from the kitchen to the back entry and taking out the walls between the rooms and closet bi-fold doors made all the difference in opening the space and adding much-needed storage.

The laundry room used gray woodgrain laminate cabinets and marble-looking laminated counter tops. The washer and dryer remained on pedestals for a better work height. Pulling the upper cabinets forward to the front of the washer and dryer, we eliminated a height challenge, so now the homeowner can reach the laundry soap.

WHITE AND WONDERFUL MASTER BATH

DESIGNER JENNIE HJERPE, AKBD / JENNIE@CRYSTALKITCHEN.COM

The homeowners had been living with an unfinished master bathroom addition since the mid 90's. With the removal of an angled shower, large tub and squaring up a doorway, they gained a beautiful and more functional space. Both sinks fit on the same wall with a linen cabinet making room for a freestanding tub and large shower including a bench, handheld shower head and grab bars for future use. A 2x2 inch hexagon tile was chosen for the floor and shower accent, white wainscot tile and Corian Quartz countertop. The homeowners added luxury to this bathroom with heated floors and heated towel bar. The black accents in hardware, fixtures and wall sconces brings elegant drama to this simply beautiful space.

60'S RAMBLER REVISITED

DESIGNER KAITLYN STOKES, ALLIED ASID / KAITLYN@CRYSTALKITCHEN.COM

This 1960's kitchen was in desperate need of reconfiguration & storage solutions. By removing a cluster of doorways & opening up the arch into the living room, it cleared the way for a space that offered more storage & counter space. By swapping the locations of the refrigerator & range, we were able to create a better work flow throughout the space. One challenge on this project was what to do about the pantry wall. Since the pantry shared space with a basement staircase, we had to work around the staircase slope while utilizing all the space available. The solution was to use a combination of pantry cabinets & false doors to create a pantry wall that was easily accessible, functional, & aesthetically pleasing. Some unique elements like a mail catch & original flagstone tile entry were incorporated into the new design to keep with the style of the home.

TRADITIONAL CHARM IN ST. PAUL

DESIGNER MARY MANEY, CKB, ASID, CLIPP / MARY@CRYSTALKITCHEN.COM

Our goal in the remodel of this 1920's Kitchen was to create a timeless color palette, improve the layout and offer a solution to storage of coats & backpacks at the tiny back entry. Walls were removed and bulky radiators were replaced with low profile units which allowed us to completely reconfigure the Kitchen and even incorporate an island. A cozy bench for seating is reminiscent of the built-in booth that the original kitchen had.

The family needed a drop off zone for coats & backpacks, so a 6-ft. x 11-ft. Mudroom addition was added. It really changed this family's life by keeping the chaos out of the Kitchen. The exterior windows of the Dining Room needed to stay, so with a careful eye to design, they were incorporated into the design of the coat cubby. The addition looks as if it had always been part of the home.

VINTAGE BATHROOM REMAKE

DESIGNER CAROL KORNAK / CAROL@CRYSTALKITCHEN.COM

The 1929 bathroom was primarily used by twin teenagers. The single sink layout was a problem as they got ready for school. The top priority was two sinks, more storage and counter space. Carol Kornak proposed relocating the bathroom door allowing for a vanity with 2 sinks. Pale grey cabinets from Crystal Cabinet Works were paired with Caesarstone quartz countertops. "From my first meeting with Carol, she was honest about the expected cost and timing. There were no surprises when it came time to sign the contract. Our project was completed on time (one week early!) and on budget. We loved seeing Carol's design come to life."
